Term 2 opened with an explosive highly original dance performance at the Melbourne Theatre Company's Lawler Theatre. It was an impressive performance by our students, their passion for dance was on full display throughout the evening.

It takes a great deal of dedication and commitment to produce work of this standard so early in the year. We have captured some of the energy of the night in this issue with some spectacular images and a video of the night.

A special thanks to our dance teaching team, led by Jenna Carracher and ably supported by Holly Pritchard and Julia Player, all of whom continue to demand creative and original work from our students. The integration of dance with video, supported by a powerful dance track, combined to produce a fast paced and highly entertaining evening.

This year we have committed to moving many of our signature arts events from the school setting to professional arts venues and our students are responding magnificently to the challenge of performing in a more professional environment.

Choral and strings performances will be held at the magnificent bluestone Uniting Church in South Melbourne with our signature music evening to be held at the Merlyn Theatre at the Malthouse in July.
This is part of our continued focus on improving the standard and the quality of performance as well as opening up our performances to a larger audience in our community.

We finished the week with the launch of an art show titled ‘Painting The Docks’. This exhibition was the culmination of a six month project. A group of students from Years 7-10 completed a series of works inspired by shipping and shipping infrastructure such as the new terminal at Webb Dock.

Our students were mentored by celebrated local artist Julian Twigg who shares their passion for all things nautical. He has the happy knack of bringing out each student’s creative flair as we saw on the day.

We are deeply committed to the model of our students working in partnership with artists in residence across the visual, liberal and performing arts as they learn so much from experts in the field.

The opening was held at our newly established Gatehouse Campus on Princes Pier - a perfect location for an exhibition featuring the Port of Melbourne. We were able to stand in the space, admiring the artwork featuring container ships and cranes as the real thing steamed past the windows.

I would like to thank our corporate partner Victoria International Container Terminal (VICT) who funded our artist in residence.

During the Easter break our senior art students participated in an intensive two day life drawing program led by Roar Drawing. Life drawing is at the heart of a professional artist’s work so our students relished the opportunity to work alongside each other developing their ability to understand and express their perspective on the human form. In short, they loved the experience.

Finally, I want to share our excitement about the upcoming liberal arts festival-LitFest-to be held over two days, Friday and Saturday 23rd and 24th of June.

We have secured some fascinating guest speakers for this year’s event including Helen Garner, one of Australia’s best known and respected authors, performance poet Omar Musa and the controversial Clementine Ford, author of the recently released “Fight Like A Girl.” Tickets will be available soon, but in the meantime, please set this weekend aside as it promises to be an intellectually challenging and stimulating event.

Dance Show 2017

On Friday, 21st of April, the APC Dance Company staged their annual production, "I Am..." at the Lawler Theatre at Melbourne Theatre Company.

Twenty-six dedicated students from Years 7 to 12 rehearsed for more than 10 weeks to create and refine the performance, which ran for just over an hour - an incredible amount of choreography to learn! The shows were a huge success, with a sold out evening show that had everyone talking about the talent, energy, and professionalism of the performers.

For those of you who missed the performance, we are staging one more informal repeat performance in the school gym next Thursday 4th May at Open Day from 3:40 - 4:40pm.

Make sure you check out the video here at the following link to see highlights from the show! The password is 'apcmedia'

‘Painting the Docks’ Exhibition

On Saturday 22nd April, Albert Park College, in collaboration with the Victoria International Container Terminal (VICT), celebrated their partnership with an art exhibition at the Princes Pier Gatehouse. This exhibition was inspired by the new terminal opening at Webb Dock East and showcased the artworks of Year 7 - 10 Albert Park College students under the mentorship of celebrated local artist, Julian Twigg. There was also a selection of works displayed by Julian Twigg which sat beautifully amongst the student work and demonstrated the influence of his work on the students. The students who took part in the project and exhibited in the show were Melisand Box, Alastair Stephenson, Charlie Symons, Oliver Kalicin, Lam-Nhi Nguyen, Tiernan Crowley, Andriana Staikos and Laura Heron and they are to be congratulated on their interesting and evocatively produced artworks.

The exhibition was designed to coincide with the VICT Community Day which saw hundreds of people flock to the Pier in order to view the exhibition as well as go on a bus tour of the fully automated container terminal in Webb Dock East.

AGM Notice

APC will hold it’s Annual General Meeting on Tuesday May 9th from 7pm in the library (Danks Street).
Congratulations! The College Captains are the voice of the student body. They collaborate with staff, students and the broader community to achieve the best outcomes for APC. College Captains organise and lead the Senior SRC and represent the College at internal and external events.

Below are some reflections from the 2017 College Captains, Ellen Waite and Alexander Scott.

I feel very lucky to be in this position today as one of APC’s College Captains. To be able to help lead the college this year is an incredible opportunity, it also allows me so many fantastic opportunities to grow, as I positively represent the college to the best of my ability.

This year the aim is to continue to work towards building a greater relationship between year levels and with staff, encouraging discussion and collaboration to build a powerful sense of school spirit and pride. Of course, that isn’t to say that it doesn’t already exist! Already the positivity and sense of community that the college prides itself in has been evident; the Swimming Carnival being a fantastic example of everyone joining together, getting involved and enjoying the day.

The goal this year is to encourage the supportive community of students whilst actively seeking out relationships with other schools in the inner-city to ensure we cement our reputation as a positive, creative, high-achieving community in a diverse range of subjects and activities. We take pride in supporting areas many other schools dismiss - encouraging and actively supporting the creative subjects and continuing to remain environmentally sustainable - to continue working to support these endeavours is something which makes me incredibly proud to be standing here today.

Holding the role of a College Captain is something I am incredibly proud of and I hope that I am able to do the school proud.

While as a group we are all Albert Park College students, individually we all face a variety of different challenges. While we get told to always look ahead to what is next, the holidays hopefully served as a good time to reflect on the challenges you faced last term, as well as what was successful. It may have been something as simple as a Maths concept, an English writing structure or a style of painting, or something that may have great affect on your future, such as thinking about where you want to aim for and what you want to do.

There are thousands of quotes about failure, most now sound very clichéd, so I won’t subject you to listening to yet another, but their message still rings true. Without failure it’s incredibly difficult to try even better; when things don’t go our way we get a kick up the backside that in the long run may benefit us a lot more than if we were to just cruise through school, and life in general, with no real catalyst to improve.

So, if you had a tough Term 1 and experienced your fair share of failure, think of it as just another step towards success.

As Term 1 2017 drew to a close, APC’s foundation IB students and their families came together to celebrate the College’s first teaching of the IB DP.

The evening, appropriately titled First Endeavours, gave IB students an opportunity to showcase the work that they had completed to date in the programme. A showcase of student work was one of the evening’s features alongside presentations from the College’s foundation principal Steve Cook and former DP graduate Will Egan-Griﬃths.

In readiness for the evening’s celebration students and teachers alike reﬂected on their decision to become part of the IB alumni. DP Coordinator Kathryn Riosa said it was ‘gratifying to be involved in an educational programme that was outward reaching in its approach’. Foundation IB student Wells McDonald echoed this sentiment saying he was inspired by the programme’s focus on intercultural understandings.

Excitement aside, students spoke openly about the challenges the programme was already posing of them. DP graduate Will Egan-Griﬃths advised students to reckon with the challenge that the IB DP poses with the assurance that they will be better people and students at the end of their experience.

The college’s Assistant Principal in the Senior Years Anne Stout congratulated students on selecting the IB reminding them that they had joined a special alumni which included the likes of Justin Trudeau.

There was a hum of excitement as the evening drew to a close and the college’s foundation IB students metaphorically set sail to their aspirations with paper boats laden with life savers. (Photo credit: Natalie Jackson).

For more highlights from the evening please view the First Endeavours film linked here.

Any student interested in studying the IB DP is encouraged to contact programme coordinator Kathryn Riosa. Program information can be found in the Colleges Senior Years Handbook distributed later in Term 2.
Solar Panels at APC

Over the Easter break our maintenance team was hard at work supervising the installation of a new bank of solar panels. Energy Australia installed a further 40 panels, delivering an additional 10 kilowatts of power to the College. This installation brings our overall solar capacity up to a 30 kilowatt system.

All of the solar panels have been funded by our community and the solar installation forms part of our overall goal to become Australia’s first carbon neutral school.

If you would like to make a donation towards our next installation of panels then simply contact reception. Every donation of $380.00 purchases a panel and we are committed to installing a new array of panels once we reach our target of an additional 40 panels.

Published writers!

Congratulations to students Thom Clark, Alexandra Playfoot, Lucy De Gleria Cade and Siena Graham on being published in The Port Melbourne magazine!

These students were able to write four exceptional articles about life at the Bay St Campus and being a part of the Port Melbourne community. These students workshopped and edited their pieces meticulously in Term 1 and are to be commended on their incredible hard work.

This is an exceptional achievement and they are to be congratulated on becoming published writers!
2017 Business Management Market Day

On Wednesday 26th April the Market Stall Day took place in the courtyard at Danks St. This day involved the three classes of Unit 1 Business Management students setting up and operating small businesses for the day.

The students had gained the knowledge and skills in the previous term to create a group business plan for their stall. There were a huge variety of foods and drinks available to students and staff during recess and lunchtime at the Market Stall Day with the profits made from the day going to the “Make a Wish Foundation”. Sausages, “freakshakes”, hot chips, donuts, milkshakes, juices, healthy pizzas were some of the things on offer.

It was a very successful day with $398.85 profit made for charity! Well done to everyone involved!

Power House & St Kilda Hockey Club are looking for under 18 players for a mixed team in the 2017 season.

We ensure that potential players in VCE can commit as often as they can manage with special fee structures and training times available for busy students.

In the Easter holidays a group of students, including myself, were given the opportunity to participate in a life drawing course run by Roar Drawing. The course involved three days of extensive life drawing and art related activities, with the chance to work with life models. The program focused on skills such as embracing your mistakes and working quickly, and letting go of the perfectionist voice inside you, that one which most of us there admitted to listening to more often than we should!

Each day we worked with a new model and not only focused on capturing their form and movement in our works, but also practised small activities such as using both hands, or one continuous line, which we hadn’t tried before. This course really helped us all grasp a new perspective of the ‘mistakes’ we make in our works, and helped us be less afraid to try new materials.

This program really helped to develop my artistic skills, especially as I am unfortunately one of the people who tends to listen to their perfectionist side! I can honestly say that since this program I have looked at my artistic possibilities in a whole new light.

It was one of the most rewarding things I have participated in and I would very highly recommend it to anyone who has the opportunity to take part in it.

‘The Whole Nine Yards’ - Bay St Café

“I worked in ‘The Whole Nine Yards’ café during Weeks 8 and 9, and it was such a positive experience. In the café, you and five peers work together to prepare food in a productive environment, which is sold to the rest of Year 9 at recess and lunch. The café functions like a real restaurant, and in the new Da Vinci campus we work to sustain an eco-friendly environment with little going to waste and using recyclable packaging. Overall, it was a rewarding opportunity and I would recommend all year nines who haven’t tried it to sign up for semester two!”

Mindfulness Club

During Thursday lunchtimes at the Da Vinci campus many students take part in Mindfulness Club. Here students can enjoy a cup of herbal tea and relax while doing a variety of mindful activities including colouring in and origami. Students (and teachers!) can go into periods four and five feeling relaxed and refreshed!

Reading Corner

Books often depict alternate worlds, and when they do, it’s easy for us to become completely infatuated with something that isn’t ours. Whilst I love to get lost in books like these from time to time, the book that I feel has changed me most is a non-fiction book; ‘Scar Tissue’ by Anthony Kiedis of The Red-Hot Chilli Peppers. Kiedis details the obstacles he had to overcome - all that became part of creating an American band that made history. This reminded me of my own passion for music and playing guitar which have led to developing goals that I previously deemed unrealistic. The complete devotion Kiedis demonstrated towards the band led me to return to old ambitions of mine with renewed persistence and the confidence that they are achievable. ‘Scar Tissue’ is of great significance to me.

Who would have thought that picturing a corpse getting eaten by vultures would become a rather romantic notion for me? As it happens this is what occurred after reading the novel Sky Burial by Xinran. It’s a true story about a Chinese woman, Shu Wen, recently married to a doctor in the People’s Liberation Army who was sent to “liberate” Tibet. Two months later we find out that her husband, Kejun, is missing in action. Shu Wen travels to Tibet to find him, and so begins a truly amazing journey and haunting love story of both people and the Tibetan culture. It makes you question the nature of colonialism in the modern era, what does love really mean, how the greed for power impacts ordinary people and the nature of sacrifice. This novel inspired me so much I travelled to Tibet to see “the roof of the world”, the friendly people and the continued oppression of the Tibetan people. Sky Burial is an easy read, without fanfare or complicated descriptions, focusing more on telling the story and capturing the tortured longing of the characters.

Debating and Public Speaking is in full swing at Albert Park College!
Forty Year 7 students are enrolled in the new Public Speaking and Debating elective. We have seven teams enrolled in the Debating Association of Victoria Senior Debating Competition. In the first round of the competition the Albert Park College teams beat Star of the Sea, Firbank Grammar School and Kostka Hall. We suffered close losses to Sandringham College and Brighton Secondary College. The following students were awarded best speaker in their respective debates: Keir Edwards, Oscar Pearce, Zoe Karabajkian and Edie Milner. Joe Buden also competed in the Debating Association of Victoria Senior Public Speaking competition. He achieved exemplary scores in the impromptu speaking rounds where he delivered speeches on the dangers of nuclear waste storage and the adventures of John Batman. Both speeches were prepared in 5 minutes without any access to resources. All students involved in the program should be congratulated on their fantastic start to the year.
APC House Football 2017

Flannery did it again!!

At the end of March, the annual APC House Football competition was held at JL Murphy Reserve in Port Melbourne and for the third year in a row, Flannery were hot favourites. Flannery had won the previous two years and it was decided that Winton & Freeman would team up to try to a third victory. However, Louis Gleeson, Zephyr Howson, Tom Foley, Jaime Brooker, Antoine Miller, Malachy Asmah-Brown and many others on the Flannery team had a different idea. They wanted 3 wins in a row! One point was the difference at half-time; 2 goals was the difference at three quarter time, then Flannery went on to win by 5 goals.

Well done Flannery on your third victory!

APC Accounting

Over this semester Year 11 Accounting students have learnt a variety of practical skills that can be used in many areas of their lives, now and in the future. Students learnt to create source documents, records and reports to maintain the cash records for businesses.

Students were able to put their knowledge and skills to use by applying what they had learnt while competing against each other in a game of Monopoly using Google Sheets/Excel to create records and reports. They learnt to create formulas in these programs to increase ease and efficiency of recording and reporting.

Come along at Open Day to the Humanities area to chat to any of the students (from 2-3pm) and Miss Jessop about the importance, usefulness and practicality of Accounting as a subject for your future.
